

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An original feeding device 100 for feeding a sheet-shaped original comprises an original loading tray 2 for loading the original, a width direction aligning plates 5 and 6 for aligning the width direction of the original loaded on the original loading tray 2, and an original size indicator 7. The original size indicator comprises the scale for indication an original size, and is disposed so that the original size indicated by the width direction aligning plate 6 can be checked by any of a first view point from above for the original feeding device 100 and a second view point having an equal height to the feeding device and also sidelongly fronting the same device.